Report of the Committee on the New Orleans Riots. New Orleans Riots.

New Orleans, Feb. 28.—The Committee on the New Orleans Riots, who were instructed to enquire into the alleged frauds in the New Orleans Custom House, have made a report on the latter branch, in which they say they desired not to attempt an investigation of matters, concerning which no information had been given to them, or into occurrences said to have transpired at so remote a date as 1862, but conformed ion which regarded the appointments. The conclusions at which the commit-

The conclusions at which the commit-tee arrived at are:
First—That it does not appear that the collector, Mr. Kellog, has made ap-pointments of persons whom he had reason to believe had been in any way connected with the rebel service.
Second—That it does not appear that Mr. Kellog deemed it his duty to in-quire, and that he had not in fact, in-quired, as to the antecedents of the ap-plicants for office, with reference to their connection with the federal or the rebel service.

rebel service.
Third—That removals had been made. Third—That removals had been made, some of which were quite recently persons employed in the Custom House, when it appeared that they had been actually engaged in rendering service to the rebellion and to the rebel cause. Fourth—That great and continual care should be taken in the appointment of officers, whose duty it is to protect the government against frauds upon the revenue laws; that none but genuine and known friends of the government should be appointed to office. Fifth—That such care has been informally taken in all the departments of the Custom House. Representative Boyer, one of the committee, does not unite with the majority in this conclusion.
